Packed House at The Salvation Army this Sunday

Community Gathers for Worship and Performance by the Harbor Light Choir

- Who: The Salvation Army Corps Community Center in Conroe
- What: The Salvation Army Harbor Light Choir will perform to a packed house in The Salvation Army's chapel for Worship Sunday. The Harbor Light Choir is comprised of approximately 18 current and former substance abuse program participants who have demonstrated success and initiative toward their recovery. These men make a one-year commitment to perform at various venues with the choir as a part of their work therapy. The choir's joy in sharing their own style of inspirational music is what makes them so popular today. They will sing and give their personal testimonies/stories. Advisory Council members and guests, as well as community member and regular Salvation Army church-goers will be in attendance. The day will begin by a performance by The Salvation Army's Youth Choir. Lunch will be served to all who attend immediately following the performance.
- When: Sunday, March 2, 2008 from 10:45 a.m. to 12 p.m.
- Where: The Salvation Army, 304 Avenue E, Conroe, TX 77301
- Why: The Salvation Army in Montgomery County offers an array of programs including shelter, social services, food pantry, youth programs and spiritual development. We provide free lunch to the public daily with various civic organizations and church groups coming in to volunteer each day. The Red Shield Lodge (shelter) has been over capacity (capacity is 45 beds) for several months – overflow is typically in hallways and the Chapel.
